The Cold War Begins
After World War 2 ended in 1945 because of the dropping of the atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, it initiated an arms race with the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union and the United States began fighting because of different ideologies (beliefs). The United States has a capitalist economy and the Soviet Union is Communist. The US and Soviet Union’s relationship became strained because each other was a threat to security.

Questions:
1. Where were the atomic bombs dropped?
_____________________________________________
2. What did the atomic bomb initiate between the Soviet Union & the United States? ______________________
3. Why were the US & Soviet Union fighting? ______________________________________________________
4. Why did their relationship become strained? ______________________________________________________

The Truman Doctrine
When Communist rebels threatened Greece and Stalin pressured Turkey, Truman decided to offer these countries military aid. He felt it was important not to make the same mistake as the appeasers in Munich who failed to stand up to Hitler in 1938.

Questions:
1. What two locations did Communist rebels threaten? __________________________________________________
2. What did Truman offer Greece and Turkey? ________________________________________________________

Who is the man in the picture? ____________________________________________________________

What two locations were given aid with the Truman Doctrine? ________________________________

Which of the following was a long-term effect of the Marshall Plan?
A. The formation of NATO
B. An ongoing arms race between the United States & Soviet Union
C. The construction of the Berlin Wall
D. An increase in trade between the United States and Europe

The Marshall Plan
After World War 2, much of Europe faced famine. George C. Marshall proposed that massive aid be given to countries of war-torn Europe to rebuild their economies. Marshall believed this aid would create strong European allies and trading partners with the United States.

Questions:
1. What was Europe facing after World War 2? ______________________________________________________
2. What did George C. Marshall propose? __________________________________________________________
3. What did Marshall believe this aid would create? _________________________________________________

Origins of U.S. Containment Policy
American leaders responded to the Soviet domination of Eastern Europe by developing a policy of containment. Under this policy, they did not attempt to overturn Communism where it already existed, but they resolved to prevent it from spreading further. Two examples of containment are the Truman Doctrine and the Marshall Plan.

Questions:
1. What policy did American leaders develop? ______________________________________________________
2. Under containment, what did they try to prevent from spreading? __________________________________
3. What are two examples of containment? ________________________________________________________
Truman’s Presidency and the Red Scare of the 1950’s

The House Un-American Activities Committee
Following World War 2, Americans feared a possible Communist menace inside the United States. Many Americans were accused of “un-American” actions on little evidence. Congress decided to conduct its own loyalty checks through the House Un American Activities Committee. It questioned actors, directors, writers, and former members of the Communist Party were “blacklisted” and lost their jobs.

Questions:
1. What did many Americans fear after World War 2?
2. What did Congress create to conduct their own loyalty checks?
3. Who did they question?

Senator Joseph McCarthy
Senator Joseph McCarthy shocked Americans by claiming that he knew the names of hundreds of Communists who had infiltrated the U.S. State Department and other government agencies. Like the Red Scare of the 1920’s, McCarthy’s allegations created fears of a Communist conspiracy.

Questions:
1. Who shocked Americans?
2. What did McCarthy claim he knew?
3. What happened in the 1920’s that was similar to this?
4. Did McCarthy have a lot of evidence?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>1. What was the main goal of the United States’ containment policy during the mid-twentieth century?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A. To become more technologically advanced than the Soviet Union</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B. To prevent the spread of communism around the world</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C. To prevent nuclear warfare during the height of the Cold War</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D. To support the establishment of the Warsaw Pact in Eastern Europe</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg
In 1950, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were charged with selling national secrets to the Soviet Union about making the atomic bomb. The Rosenberg’s were found guilty and executed for spying. Like the Sacco and Vanzetti case in the 1920s, many Americans doubted the Rosenberg’s guilt.

Questions:
1. What was Julius and Ethel Rosenberg charged with?
2. What was the result of their case?
3. What case in the 1920s is this similar to?

Venona Papers
In 1997, the National Security Agency released the Venona Papers. This was a secret effort by the United States to gather and decode messages sent in the 940s by Soviet military intelligence agents. The Venona Papers revealed that people were in fact helping the Soviet Union. They revealed the identities of several Americans who had spied for the Soviet Union, including Julius Rosenberg.

Questions:
1. What did the National Security Agency release in 1997?
2. What was it a secret effort to do?
3. What did the Venona Papers reveal?
4. Who was spying for the Soviet Union?

---

The House Un-American Activities Committee

In 1997, the National Security Agency released the Venona Papers. This was a secret effort by the United States to gather and decode messages sent in the 940s by Soviet military intelligence agents. The Venona Papers revealed that people were in fact helping the Soviet Union. They revealed the identities of several Americans who had spied for the Soviet Union, including Julius Rosenberg.

Questions:
1. What did many Americans fear after World War 2?
2. What did Congress create to conduct their own loyalty checks?
3. Who did they question?

---

Senator Joseph McCarthy
Senator Joseph McCarthy shocked Americans by claiming that he knew the names of hundreds of Communists who had infiltrated the U.S. State Department and other government agencies. Like the Red Scare of the 1920’s, McCarthy’s allegations created fears of a Communist conspiracy.

Questions:
1. Who shocked Americans?
2. What did McCarthy claim he knew?
3. What happened in the 1920’s that was similar to this?
4. Did McCarthy have a lot of evidence?

---

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg

In 1950, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were charged with selling national secrets to the Soviet Union about making the atomic bomb. The Rosenberg’s were found guilty and executed for spying. Like the Sacco and Vanzetti case in the 1920s, many Americans doubted the Rosenberg’s guilt.

Questions:
1. What was Julius and Ethel Rosenberg charged with?
2. What was the result of their case?
3. What case in the 1920s is this similar to?

---

Venona Papers
In 1997, the National Security Agency released the Venona Papers. This was a secret effort by the United States to gather and decode messages sent in the 940s by Soviet military intelligence agents. The Venona Papers revealed that people were in fact helping the Soviet Union. They revealed the identities of several Americans who had spied for the Soviet Union, including Julius Rosenberg.

Questions:
1. What did the National Security Agency release in 1997?
2. What was it a secret effort to do?
3. What did the Venona Papers reveal?
4. Who was spying for the Soviet Union?
The Cold War Begins
After World War 2 ended in 1945 because of the dropping of the atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, it initiated an arms race with the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union and the United States began fighting because of different ideologies (beliefs). The United States has a capitalist economy and the Soviet Union is Communist. The US and Soviet Union’s relationship became strained because each other was a threat to security.

Questions:
1. Where were the atomic bombs dropped?
_____________________________________________
2. What did the atomic bomb initiate between the Soviet Union & the United States? ______________________
3. Why were the US & Soviet Union fighting? ______________________________________________________
4. Why did their relationship become strained? ______________________________________________________

The Truman Doctrine
When Communist rebels threatened Greece and Stalin pressured Turkey, Truman decided to offer these countries military aid. He felt it was important not to make the same mistake as the appeasers in Munich who failed to stand up to Hitler in 1938.

Questions:
1. What two locations did Communist rebels threaten? ____________________________________________________
2. What did Truman offer Greece and Turkey? __________________________________________________________

Who is the man in the picture? JOSEPH STALIN
What two locations were given aid with the Truman Doctrine? GREECE AND TURKEY

Which of the following was a long-term effect of the Marshall Plan?
A. The formation of NATO
B. An ongoing arms race between the United States & Soviet Union
C. The construction of the Berlin Wall
D. An increase in trade between the United States and Europe

The Marshall Plan
After World War 2, much of Europe faced famine. George C. Marshall proposed that massive aid be given to countries of war-torn Europe to rebuild their economies. Marshall believed this aid would create strong European allies and trading partners with the United States.

Questions:
1. What was Europe facing after World War 2?
______________________________________________
2. What did George C. Marshall propose?
______________________________________________
______________________________________________
3. What did Marshall believe this aid would create?

Origins of U.S. Containment Policy
American leaders responded to the Soviet domination of Eastern Europe by developing a policy of containment. Under this policy, they did not attempt to overturn Communism where it already existed, but they resolved to prevent it from spreading further. Two examples of containment are the Truman Doctrine and the Marshall Plan.

Questions:
1. What policy did American leaders develop?
______________________________________________
2. Under containment, what did they try to prevent from spreading? ________________________________
3. What are two examples of containment?
Truman’s Presidency and the Red Scare of the 1950’s

The House Un-American Activities Committee

Following World War 2, Americans feared a possible Communist menace inside the United States. Many Americans were accused of “un-American” actions on little evidence. Congress decided to conduct its own loyalty checks through the House Un American Activities Committee. It questioned actors, directors, writers, and former members of the Communist Party were “blacklisted” and lost their jobs.

Questions:
1. What did many Americans fear after World War 2?

   _______________________________________

2. What did Congress create to conduct their own loyalty checks?

   _______________________________________

3. Who did they question?

   _______________________________________

Senator Joseph McCarthy

Senator Joseph McCarthy shocked Americans by claiming that he knew the names of hundreds of Communists who had infiltrated the U.S. State Department and other government agencies. Like the Red Scare of the 1920’s, McCarthy’s allegations created fears of a Communist conspiracy.

Questions:
1. Who shocked Americans?

   _______________________________________

2. What did McCarthy claim he knew?

   _______________________________________

3. What happened in the 1920’s that was similar to this?

   _______________________________________

4. Did McCarthy have a lot of evidence?

   _______________________________________

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg

In 1950, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were charged with selling national secrets to the Soviet Union about making the atomic bomb. The Rosenberg’s were found guilty and executed for spying. Like the Sacco and Vanzetti case in the 1920s, many Americans doubted the Rosenberg’s guilt.

Questions:
1. What was Julius and Ethel Rosenberg charged with?

   _______________________________________

2. What was the result of their case?

   _______________________________________

3. What case in the 1920s is this similar to?

   _______________________________________

Venona Papers

In 1997, the National Security Agency released the Venona Papers. This was a secret effort by the United States to gather and decode messages sent in the 940s by Soviet intelligence agents. The Venona Papers revealed that people were in fact helping the Soviet Union. They revealed the identities of several Americans who had spied for the Soviet Union, including Julius Rosenberg.

Questions:
1. What did the National Security Agency release in 1997?

   _______________________________________

2. What was it a secret effort to do?

   _______________________________________

3. What did the Venona Papers reveal?

   _______________________________________

4. Who was spying for the Soviet Union?

   _______________________________________

---

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>1. What was the main goal of the United States’ containment policy during the mid-twentieth century?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A. To become more technologically advanced than the Soviet Union</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B. To prevent the spread of communism around the world</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C. To prevent nuclear warfare during the height of the Cold War</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D. To support the establishment of the Warsaw Pact in Eastern Europe</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>2. McCarthyism was an anti-communist effort that mostly -</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A. Promoted democracy through the use of military force in Europe</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B. Deported Russian immigrants from the United States</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C. Minimized the Soviet Union’s international political influence</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D. Fueled a Red Scare through unsupported accusations of communism</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>3. What was confirmed by the publication of the Venona Papers?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A. Thousands of American citizens who believed in Communism were jailed or deported</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B. The reputations of many people were ruined by false accusations of disloyalty</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C. Some Americans in government and industry had in fact been helping the Soviet Union</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D. Organized groups of Communists had been responsible for violent terrorism</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>4. The term McCarthyism is sometimes used to describe -</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A. Removing members of Congress for abuses of power</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B. Investigating civil service employees for corruption</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C. Using illegal means to obtain evidence in criminal trials</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D. Accusing people of subversive actions without sufficient evidence</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>