To be effective, the president cannot use the office of president to foster his/her own agenda. To do so creates disharmony and mistrust. The president must believe that reasoned, thoughtful, data-driven discussion will bring about the best decisions, even if he/she may not personally agree with the decision. In addition to being a Board member, the president must remove him/herself from the fray of discussion and work constantly to bring the Board together as a team and seek a consensus position everyone can live with. To accomplish these objectives a president must:

- ii. Be a consensus builder
 - not take sides
 - get people to compromise
 - insist that decisions be “data driven” rather than “I think”.
- iii. Be strong
 - control meetings
 - be able to live with criticism
 - be willing to take unpopular stands
- iv. Listen (but not necessarily accept, believe, or act on everything he/she hears)
- v. Be trustworthy
 - dependable (do what he/she promises to do)
 - open (no hidden agendas)
 - honest (always ethical and truthful)
- vi. Work effectively with the Superintendent
- vii. Be secure (i.e. does not “need” to be president)
